Re: Your presentation at our annual early childhood conference

Kathy, I am writing to thank you again for your inspiring keynote address and sectionals for our annual early childhood conference. Our final evaluation form asks the participants to identify the highlight of the conference for them. As we reviewed the evaluations at the end of the conference, we read your name over and over again. The participants used words like inspiring, knowledge filled, motivational, warm, enthusiastic, research based, fun, and practical. Many participants mentioned the value of your modeling of how to use music with young children to help them learn all the subject areas. I must say that you were a big part of the reason for the success of the conference. Thank you again for your topics, your presentation style, and your friendly demeanor with the participants. We look forward to having a repeat performance several years from now. Blessings on your work with teachers of young children.
