Dear Kathy,

Thank you so much for an exciting and energizing evening of music and learning. Teachers from all over Jacksonville left our symposium talking about how they would use the information you gave them the next day in their classrooms. You reminded us how important music is for a young child's brain development and how music can help guide classroom management. We learned great new songs and many possible activities that can enhance any curriculum. We especially liked how you brought a strong literacy component in with your songs.

You made such a great connection with the Early Childhood teachers and administrators and with the parents and children the following day. We continue to hear the children's requests—"Let's play the Firehouse song!" and "Let's do the Please and Thank you song now!"

We sincerely appreciate the warmth and professionalism you displayed the entire time you were with us. Your utmost concern seemed to be that everyone learned something and had a great time in the process. We did both! You are delightful to work with and we look forward to enjoying more educational opportunities with you.

Sincerely yours,

Theresa B. Levy
